

ABOUT RPCC

Your Community College in the River Parishes Region

At River Parishes Community College (RPCC), we're the premier post-secondary educational resource for the river parishes region of Louisiana. We are an open admission institution committed to partnering with our community and local businesses to provide high-quality workforce training, certificates, diplomas, and associate degrees. Our goal is simple yet profound: to be the destination of choice for education in our region. Learn more about our community college in Gonzales, Reserve, Boutte, and Plaquemine, LA.
